BOARD SELECTS NAME FOR THE CONSOLIDATED PUBLIC ELEMENTARY SCHOOL IN CITY OF SARNIA

SARNIA - At the July 13, 2009 Special Board Meeting, Trustees of the Lambton Kent District School Board selected the name Russell Street Memorial School for the new public elementary school in the city of Sarnia. The new school will consolidate Devine Street and Johnston Memorial Schools at the Russell Street site.

The Board chose to include both Street and Memorial in the new name to honour the rich heritage of both the Devine Street School and the Johnston Memorial School communities. The word Memorial would also represent the founder of the two schools and honour the past history.

The Ministry of Education previously awarded the Board $8.8 M to construct the new consolidated school in south Sarnia.
