Chris King Wins Prime Minister's Award!

Chris King, a Secondary Teacher at Alexander Mackenzie Secondary School, is a recipient of a Certificate of Achievement for the 2010/2011 Prime Minister's Awards for Teaching Excellence! The award is given to exceptionally innovative leaders who help students excel. Chris is one of 26 national recipients of the Certificate of Achievement which are handed out annually to teachers and early childhood educators in Canada. Chris has taught special needs students at AMSS for 27 years. The award recognizes his efforts to help ease what can be a difficult and challenging transition for students from the school to community. He has been successful in helping students find both cooperative education placements as well as work opportunities in their field of choice. Chris was recently invited to attend a meeting with Ministry of Education officials where they asked to learn more about the Job Coaching Program.

Trustees will have an opportunity to recognize Chris at the Board Meeting on October 25.

Congratulations Chris!
