I feel a lack of initiative and motivation. I complete all of my work, but I always leave it to the last minute.

Marks can't change, there's not really due dates, and there's nobody to be competitive with. I have less motivation to do things at home.

I think we should end the school year at the end of May seeing as exams are already canceled and keeping it to June online is very stressful for a lot

Of kids and I know a lot of students going back to school worrying about not know the course information as well as they could for the next year.

Lessons and assignments should be posted on Monday on oppose to halfway through the week.

Since some students are working full time now, doing this will insure they meet deadlines. Makes us less stressed, more time, and will be completed.

To get the motivation to do online work is difficult at times especially for those that are now working a lot more and still have schoolwork to do.

It's important because it can make it stressful when there's close deadlines for classes.

I don't think we should do a summer program
Because kids have already gone through so much we should be able to have a break and not have to worry about school!

I think it is important for students who are in their final year of high school to have the chance to say goodbye to their friends and teachers.

We had no idea on March 13 that we may never see our favourite teachers and friends within the school setting again. For many, that was it.

i find the online school thing a little hard because you cant just put you hand up and get help you have to write a comment and you still have to wait

i think its important because some people are struggling with it because the teacher cant always be at the computer all the time to help us out

Working at home is depressing.

I miss my friends and its hard to do anything with confidence, my friends were always there telling me if I'm doing it right or they encourage me.

Suggestion:

can all teachers stop posting so much work. it's seems like teachers think that because we're home all day we have the time for 20 assignments per day

I think the teachers should give us a weekly report on how are marks are because I dont have the motivation when I don't know if I'm doing good or bad

So if i knew my marks I would see what I have to improve on and i can see if I'm passing or failing, its hard not knowing if you're doing good.

Online learning is not effective, students should use this time to benefit themselves based on their interests during these unusual circumstances

Students mental states have obviously been affected and forcing teens into education where their Mark cannot drop is a waste of time; could get a job

Distractions at home make it difficult to focus. When in the classroom, there is structure.

Having a teacher to interact with in person makes learning much easier.

I wish I could see my midterm mark as some teachers are not sharing these with us.

It is frustrating being kept in the dark.

Mental health plays a big role in this and many people (including myself) struggle to do work at home when we already have to deal with mental issues

I need distractions to not overthink but school work just makes me think even more and I struggle with getting things done and I'm sure others do too

Y'all better not have us do mandated zoom meetings. Some may find it useful but to many it's a pain. Especially with useless classes like English.

Some don't need video calls so they shouldn't need to do them. Others may need it so they should be provided to them.
